ABOUT ME

Hi there! I'm Cbastien Xyth V. Ebora, and I'm passionate about diving into the world of technology. My journey began with Python programming, where I discovered the power of coding to solve real-world problems. From crafting simple scripts to more complex applications, Python became my playground for innovation.

COMPETENCES

I explored basic web design, where I learned to blend creativity with functionality. With tools like Canva, I brought my ideas to life, crafting visually stunning designs that captivated audiences.
